A Blueprint for Worship and Thanksgiving Psalm 65:1-13

provided and he looks forward, not to ask for more, but to the opportunity to to God. David says, "Praise awaits you, our God, in Zion." He imagines people of God gathering in God's stadium, the, to fulfill their to worship. They wait until a sense of the Shekinah glory of God filled the place and the people of God lift their voices in spontaneous, unbridled The Bible is providing a of worship for us as well. The principal reason for the explosion of praise David expects from the God's people is that God He then recounts 3 areas of life in which God has answered prayer: regarding the personal, spiritual struggle with, regarding the state of the and the in which they live, and regarding God's provision. The Psalm concludes with the theme of God's physical provision for His people. He focuses on rain that produces an abundance of and provides sustenance for the which then feed the people. Water. Regular, simple, unremarkable. Or is it? The 2 nd answer to prayer David thanks God for is God's control over the For David, God is in control. Like him, we can look anticipate the fulfillment of Rev. 11:15 where "The kingdom of the has become the kingdom of our and of his, and he will for ever and ever." The 1 st answer to prayer David thanks God for is His response to the personal, spiritual struggle of us all—being overwhelmed by sin. God has provided a means of so that we might be brought near to God. Jesus, the perfect, sinless Son of God, offered Himself as a sacrifice to be our and atone for the sin of anyone	Most of our praying is forward, asking God to do
David says, "Praise awaits you, our God, in Zion." He imagines people of God gathering in God's stadium, the, to fulfill their to worship. They wait until a sense of the Shekinah glory of God filled the place and the people of God lift their voices in spontaneous, unbridled The Bible is providing a of worship for us as well. The principal reason for the explosion of praise David expects from the God's people is that God He then recounts 3 areas of life in which God has answered prayer: regarding the personal, spiritual struggle with, regarding the state of the and the in which they live, and regarding God's provision. The Psalm concludes with the theme of God's physical provision for His people. He focuses on rain that produces an abundance of and provides sustenance for the which then feed the people. Water. Regular, simple, unremarkable. Or is it? The 2 nd answer to prayer David thanks God for is God's control over the For David, God is in control. Like him, we can look anticipate the fulfillment of Rev. 11:15 where "The kingdom of the has become the kingdom of our and of his, and he will for ever and ever." The 1 st answer to prayer David thanks God for is His response to the personal, spiritual struggle of us all—being overwhelmed by sin. God has provided a means of so that we might be brought near to God. Jesus, the perfect, sinless Son of God, offered Himself as a sacrifice to be our and atone for the sin of anyone	In Psalm 65 David looks back to the bounty God has already provided and he looks forward, not to ask for more, but to the people of God gathering in God's stadium, the, to fulfill their to worship. They wait until a sense of the Shekinah glory of God filled the place and the people of God lift their voices in spontaneous, unbridled The Bible is providing a of worship for us as well. The principal reason for the explosion of praise David expects from the God's people is that God He then recounts a areas of life in which God has answered prayer: regarding the personal, spiritual struggle with, regarding the state of the and the in which they live, and regarding God's provision. The Psalm concludes with the theme of God's physical provision for His people. He focuses on rain that produces an abundance of and provides sustenance for the which then feed the people. Water. Regular, simple, unremarkable. Or is it? The 2 nd answer to prayer David thanks God for is God's control over the For David, God is in control. Like him, we can look anticipate the fulfillment of Rev. 11:15 where "The kingdom of the has become the kingdom of our and of his, and he will for ever and ever." The 1 st answer to prayer David thanks God for is His response to the personal, spiritual struggle of us all—being overwhelmed by sin. God has provided a means of so that we might be brought near to God. Jesus, the perfect, sinless Son of God, offered Himself as a sacrifice to be our and atone for the sin of anyone	opportunity to to God.
the God's people is that God He then recounts 3 areas of life in which God has answered prayer: regarding the personal, spiritual struggle with, regarding the state of the and the in which they live, and regarding God's provision. The Psalm concludes with the theme of God's physical provision for His people. He focuses on rain that produces an abundance of and provides sustenance for the which then feed the people. Water. Regular, simple, unremarkable. Or is it? The 2 nd answer to prayer David thanks God for is God's control over the For David, God is in control. Like him, we can look anticipate the fulfillment of Rev. 11:15 where "The kingdom of the has become the kingdom of our and of his, and he will for ever and ever." The 1 st answer to prayer David thanks God for is His response to the personal, spiritual struggle of us all—being overwhelmed by sin. God has provided a means of so that we might be brought near to God. Jesus, the perfect, sinless Son of God, offered Himself as a sacrifice to be our and atone for the sin of anyone	David says, "Praise awaits you, our God, in Zion." He imagines people of God gathering in God's stadium, the, to fulfill their to worship. They wait until a sense of the Shekinah glory of God filled the place and the people of God lift their voices in spontaneous, unbridled The Bible is providing a of worship for us as well.
The Psalm concludes with the theme of God's physical provision for His people. He focuses on	The principal reason for the explosion of praise David expects from the God's people is that God He then recounts 3 areas of life in which God has answered prayer: regarding the personal, spiritual struggle with, regarding the state of the and the in which they live, and regarding His people. He focuses on	- the For David, God is in control. Like him, we can look anticipate the fulfillment of Rev. 11:15 where "The kingdom of the has become the kingdom of our and of his, and he will for ever and ever." The 1 st answer to prayer David thanks God for is His response to the personal, spiritual struggle of us all—being overwhelmed by sin. God has provided a means of so that we might be brought near to God. Jesus, the perfect, sinless Son of God, offered Himself as a sacrifice to be our and atone for the sin of anyone	His people. He focuses on personal, spiritual struggle of us all—being overwhelmed by sin. God has provided a means of so that we might be brought near to God. Jesus, the perfect, sinless Son of God, offered Himself as a sacrifice to be our and atone for the sin of anyone	The 2 nd answer to prayer David thanks God for is God's control over the For David, God is in control. Like him, we can look anticipate the fulfillment of Rev. 11:15 where "The kingdom of the has become the kingdom of our and of his, and he will for ever and ever."
who would receive Him as I amb and their Lord	The 1 st answer to prayer David thanks God for is His response to the personal, spiritual struggle of us all—being overwhelmed by sin. God has provided a means of so that we might be brought near to God. Jesus, the perfect, sinless Son of God, offered Himself as a sacrifice to be our and atone for the sin of anyone who would receive Him as Lamb and their Lord.