COMMUNITY HELPERS VISIT LOCAL SCHOOL

POLICE OFFICERS TEACH STUDENTS

On October 14th the San Antonio Police visited our school. Officer Jolly and Officer McCampbell talked to us about what they do for their jobs. They showed a lot of gear like a door breaker, a bullet proof shield and a bullet proof vest. We got to try on the vest! It weighed a lot. They talked to us about gun safety, bullying and more. It was really cool to have them come. After they talked to us, we went to look inside their police car.

FIREFIGHTERS GIVE DEMONSTRATION

Station 41 came to our school and showed us their trucks. They taught us about fire safety, stop-drop-and roll, and even showed us how powerful their water hoses are! We really enjoyed having them come out.

MOMS VS KIDS- WHO WILL WIN

Armin said “10 bullets”– that makes sense. “Who won?” They both said “KIDS!”. As I expected. “What gear did you wear?” Time for Samuel to chat– “Well, I wore eye protection, wrist bands that hold bullets, an–” Armin said “yeah, that’s all we wore.” “How was the food?” Samuel said it was good and Armin said “ Delicious! There was salsa and I love salsa or anything with pico”. –sounds yummy! “Did you have a good time?” Both boys said definitely. Well, thats good– shooting people and nachos seem like something moms and kids would enjoy. Both interviewees said they stayed for four hours. That’s a long time! Hope you enjoyed this segment of the recap corner! See you next month.

THE SCOOP ON NERFS & NACHOS

Welcome to the recap corner! Today we interviewed two boys who went to Nerfs and Nachos; Samuel and Armin. Let’s hear some questions and answers from them.

“What was your favorite part of the event?”

Samuel: “Shooting people.” Ouch! Armin said he enjoyed the nachos. Ooohh, delicious! “How many times did you get hit?” Samuel said once but I think the mom’s would disagree. Armin said “ten to fifty times?!” –finally someone’s truthful! “How many bullets did your gun hold?” Samuel said “one”. For someone who said they hit alot of people, one bullet is hard to believe.

Student Spotlight

Our class has been so full and vibrant this year! One of my prayers for each student is that they would grow in godly character during their time with us. To help encourage opportunities for this growth, we are recognizing a few students each month with a Character Award. I'm delighted to share our recipients with you! Every student has remarkable traits they share with our classroom and I look forward to continuing honoring them over the coming months.

From top to bottom: Arya (Responsibility), T.J. (Focused), Armin (Respect), Nadine (Gentleness), Judah (Encouragement), Preston (Humor), Peter (Enthusiasm)

Voyagers & Explorers Dissect Owl Pellets

Our entire class enjoyed dissecting owl pellets. It was a lot of fun. We dissected Barn Owl pellets. When we were dissecting the pellets, we found bones and fur. Some of the bones felt sharp. A few had skulls in their pellets and we tried to figure out what they belonged to. Barn owls eat mice, rats and other small animals. Some people believe owl pellets are poop, but they aren't! The owl throws them up after digestion.
